SITE PLAN CHECKLIST

A site plan must accompany each application, petition or appeal to the Board for projects involving new construction. This check list provides a summary of the site plan contents as specified in the Board's Rules and Regulations. The Rules and Regulations are available online at www.ci.lancaster.ma.us and at the Community Development and Planning Office.

IMPORTANT NOTE: By checking the "No" box on any of the items listed below, the applicant is requesting that Board consider granting a waiver of strict compliance with the Rules and Regulations. Please note that if this waiver requested is not granted, the hearing process may be continued until the Site Plan is completed.

Provided YES	Provided NO	Site Plan Requirement
		Minimum Drawing size of 8.5" x 11"
		Drawn to scale with scale noted
		Property lines and boundaries
		Name and address of record owner
		Names and locations of adjacent streets
		North arrow
		Zoning district and any zone lines in vicinity of project
		Existing and proposed buildings or additions including number of stories and height of all structures
		Paved areas, existing and proposed parking or loading spaces
		Existing utility lines including septic and underground structures
		Locations of structures on adjoining property
		Lot area and dimensions, including setbacks where new construction or additions are proposed

The Board may also require that additional drawings or drawing content be provided specific to the application. This may include items such as site topography or existing and proposed building elevations. The applicant should consider providing this type of information with the initial application if it will help the Board better understand the basis of the requested findings.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON VARIANCES

A variance is a license or permit granted by the Zoning Board of Appeals ("ZBA") to use land or existing structures or to build and maintain structures in a manner which would otherwise violate the Lancaster Zoning by-laws. A variance is intended to prevent (a) inequities resulting from unique circumstances affecting the land or structure, or (b) the effective confiscation of property by the application of bylaws which prohibit virtually any practical use, or (c) substantial hardship which would otherwise result from strict compliance with the zoning bylaws.

There are two types of variances. "Use" variances allow one to use land or structures in a manner which is not permitted under the zoning bylaws. A "dimensional" variance permits land to deviate from the zoning bylaws with respect to lot size, frontage, setback and height requirements. A "use" variance cannot be granted by the ZBA unless the zoning bylaws expressly permit such a variance.

The authority of the ZBA to grant a variance is extremely limited, and the applicant has the burden of satisfying the legal prerequisites for the grant of a variance. For this reason, the applicant must very carefully and completely explain in Section 6 (and in Section 7, if applicable) of Form B (Requests for Findings of Fact) how each of the legal requirements for relief are applicable to the applicant's Petition. If each of the requirements for the grant of a variance set forth in Section 6 (A-E) of Form B is not satisfied, the ZBA is without authority to find in favor of the applicant's Petition.

Each of the following requirements contained in Section 6 is equally important, and all must be addressed by the applicant. The explanations provided by the applicant on the Form B must permit the members of the ZBA to reasonably reach all of the following conclusions:

- (A) The denial of the Petition will cause substantial hardship to the petitioner, such as a substantial financial loss or the inability to use the land or structure for any purpose; and
- (B) The land or structure is affected by unusual soil conditions, (e.g. a boggy area), shape (e.g. a pie-shaped lot); or topography (e.g. severe sloping); and
- (C) The circumstances which affect the land or structure for which relief is requested are unique to that property and do not generally affect other properties within the same zoning district; and
- (D) The requested variance does not alter the essential character of the neighborhood in which the affected property is located; and
- (E) Any deviation from the zoning bylaw is not substantial and does not significantly detract from the zoning plan for the district in which the property is located.

By addressing all of the legal requirements for a variance in your Petition, you will significantly increase the likelihood of a favorable result.
