The census counts every generation.

Every 10 years, the United States counts everyone who lives in the country, from newborn babies to the oldest among us. It is important for everyone to complete the 2020 Census so that communities like yours can be accurately funded and represented.

Responding is important.

The 2020 Census will influence community funding and congressional representation for the next decade. Information collected in the census will inform the allocation of more than $675 billion in federal funds for states and communities each year. That includes money for things like:

- › First responders
- › Medicare Part B
- › Supportive Housing for the Elderly Program
- › Libraries and community centers
- › Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)
- › Senior Community Service Employment Program

Responding is easy.

Beginning in mid-March 2020, you can respond to the census online, by phone, or by mail. Choose the option that is most comfortable for you. Large-print guides to the questionnaire are available upon request. From May – July 2020, census takers will visit households that have not yet responded. A census taker can assist if you need help completing your form.

Responding is safe.

Your personal information is kept confidential by law. Your responses can only be used to produce statistics. They cannot be shared with law enforcement agencies or used against you by any government agency or court in any way.

That Was Hysterical, Finding the Funny in Your Writing,
A Workshop and Intensive,
with Paula Castner and Dave Agans

Part I: Saturday, January 18, 2020
10:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

Part II: Saturday, January 25, 2020
10:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m.

Thayer Memorial Library, 717 Main Street, Lancaster, Massachusetts

Mark Twain said that humor is mankind's greatest blessing—but he was blessed with a great sense of humor. If you're not Mark Twain, you may think writing funny is no fun at all. It can be fun, if you know how to do it. Join us for a two-hour workshop and learn why and how to equip your writer's toolbox with a tickle feather and a giant foam rubber hammer. Your readers will thank you, after they catch their breath.

This is both a lecture and a hands-on workshop. Writers interested in one-on-one feedback may sign up for the humor intensive offered the second week. Participation in Part II requires attendance at Part I. To register for Part II, visit sevenbridge.org.

Paula Castner is the Chief Operating Officer for Seven Bridge Writers Collaborative as well as a freelance writer, playwright, drama director, writing workshop facilitator, baking coach, and professional administrator. Her pieces have been published in a variety of venues, from parenting magazines, to newspapers, to online magazines, and have claimed first prize in several writing contests. Her play, A Fairy Tale Life? A Musical, with music by Canadian folk artist, Nancy Beaudette, was performed in Lancaster, Massachusetts. She is currently working on her second musical, set in an art museum. Her long-term writing project is a fictionalized account of a historical court case about a slave girl from Holden, MA.

DAVE AGANS, corrupted by Mad Magazine and Get Smart at an early age, began writing spy spoofs in the sixth grade. He has since written the musical comedy, Hot Buttons, dozens of comic stage monologues, the popular, humorous technical book, Debugging, and the conspiracy satire, The Urban Legion. He also discovers and reviews funny fiction in The Yucks-Files blog. Dave can be recognized on New Hampshire golf courses by his flawed swing and on the roads by his AMUSED license plate.

The Short Story, with Winona Wendth

Thursdays, 6 to 8 p.m. April 16, 23, 30, and May 7, 14, 21 2020

Thayer Memorial Library, 717 Main Street, Lancaster, Massachusetts

This six-week class introduces the short story—what it is and what it isn't—how to find inspiration for and develop one, and how to transform a chapter of a longer piece or a memoir into a self-contained “short form” work of fiction. Writers will practice both reading and writing short stories with the intention of producing at least one work that is “completed, but not finished.”

This class will include weekly reading and writing assignments related to setting, characters, narrative structure and plot, language and tone, and point of view.

By the end of these six sessions, writers should have the tools necessary to make and implement decisions regarding their short-form projects that will be close to ready for submitting for publication.

Writers will have time to devote to their own projects and revisions in class through guided exercises; they should plan to share their work with others, a necessary step in revision.

Class is limited to nine writers. The fee for the six-week course is $200.00. Preregistration is required. To enroll, please visit sevenbridge.org, or contact us with questions at 7bridgewriterscollaborative@gmail.com. Deadline to register: April 1, 2020.

Winona Winkler Wendth holds an MFA from the Bennington Writers' Seminars and has been teaching literature and writing for over twenty years; she is currently an adjunct professor at Quinsigamond Community College where she teaches the short story and writing fiction, among other writing and literature courses. Her fiction and creative non-fiction has appeared in a variety of periodicals. Wendth has been a writing group leader and craft workshop presenter at Seven Bridge Writers' Collaborative for seven years.

The Scene Workshop, with Rich Marcello

Saturday, February 15, 2020,
10:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.
Thayer Memorial Library, 717 Main Street, Lancaster, Massachusetts

Arguably, the most important component of a novel is not the sentence, the paragraph, or even the overall story—it's the scene.

What makes a good scene? How does a scene move the overall story forward? How do you build a scene fraught with tension and conflict? The Scene Workshop will answer these questions along with many others focused on achieving the right balance of dialogue, internal thoughts, narrative summary, and setting, to make a scene come to life.

This is an introductory workshop. No experience necessary.

Rich Marcello is a poet, songwriter, musician, and writer. He is author of three novels, The Color of Home, The Big Wide Calm, and the recently released The Beauty of the Fall, all published by Langdon Street Press. Previously, he enjoyed a career as a technology executive, managing several multi-billion dollar businesses for Fortune 500 companies. Faulkner Award winner Mark Spencer praised Rich's latest novel, writing that "Few novels are as intelligent and relevant as The Beauty of the Fall. Almost none is as eloquent, compelling, heartbreaking, and ultimately, uplifting." His latest work, The Long Body That Connects Us All, is his first book of poetry. Marcello has partnered with the Seven Bridge Writers' Collaborative since 2015.

Message from the President

As we enter our 31st year, the members of the Executive Board and I are excited to present our four programs for the 2019-2020 season.

As the oldest town in Worcester County, Lancaster holds numerous treasures stretching back to pre-colonial days. This year, I am excited to be involved more directly with program planning that involves not only Lancaster but also our general region and Harvard, one of our daughter towns.

Also, we have also just finished working with Lancaster's Boy Scouts on improving the Rowlandson Rock Historic site up on George Hill and the Town Pound Historic Site along Langen Road. Do stop by and take a look if you happen to be in the vicinity of either one. The Herbert Hosmer display is also coming together nicely in the new Exhibit Room in the Prescott Building.

As always, we look forward to seeing you this fall at our first meeting, and please bring a friend or invite a new resident in your neighborhood so they can learn of Lancaster's deep, rich and colorful history. We truly have much to offer. All are welcome.

Enclosed for your convenience is a form for you to submit your membership dues. Thanks so much for your continued support.

Heather Lennon, President
