Memoir: Finding and Shaping your Story with Paul Hertneky

Saturday, April 21, 2018
10:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.
Thayer Memorial Library

Writing personal narrative demands that we find the truth, use stories to support it, and reveal it in a way that matters to the reader.

Paul Hertneky presents powerful lessons for memoirists on techniques and strategies for arresting the attentions of readers and “never letting go.”

Writers will get the most benefit from this session by reading Vivian Gornick’s The Situation and the Story beforehand.

In Paul Hertneky’s RUST BELT BOY: Stories of an American Childhood the author counts himself among the millions of Baby Boomers who fled the industrial north upon fulfilling their parents’ dreams of a college education, leaving behind a rich cultural legacy that has all but disappeared.

Over twenty-five years, Paul Hertneky has written stories, essays, and scripts for the Boston Globe, Athens News, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, New Hampshire Union Leader, NBC News, The Comedy Channel, Gourmet, Eating Well, Traveler’s Tales, The Exquisite Corpse, National Public Radio, Public Radio International, Adbusters and many more. His work centers on culture, food, industry, the environment, and travel, winning him a Solas Award, and two James Beard Award nominations. A graduate of the Bennington Writing Seminars, he serves on the faculty of Chatham University.

AN EVENING WITH LISA BROOKS

Author of

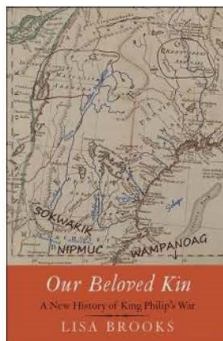

Our Beloved Kin:

A New History of King Philip's War

Tracing Mary White Rowlandson's Path:
From Lancaster/Nashaway to Kwinitekw, the Connecticut River

Thursday, April 5, 2018, at 7 PM
Nashoba Regional High School Auditorium
12 Green Road, Bolton, MA

Meet Our Guest Speaker:

Lisa Brooks is Associate Professor of English and American studies at Amherst College. She is a writer, literary scholar and historian, and she also authored The Common Pot: The Recovery of Native Space in the Northeast. She was the John L. Loeb Associate Professor of the Humanities at Harvard University before going to Amherst in 2012. She recently received the Whiting Foundation Public Engagement Fellowship for 2016-2017. While completing her undergraduate degree, she worked on aboriginal rights and land preservation cases with the tribal office at the Abenaki Nation of Missisquoi. As an emerging writer, she was mentored through Wordcraft Circle of Native Writers and Storytellers.

In Our Beloved Kin, Lisa Brooks recovers a complex picture of war, captivity, and Native resistance during the "First Indian War" (later named King Philip's War) by relaying the stories of Weetamoo, a female Wampanoag leader, and James Printer, a Nipmuc scholar, whose stories converge in the captivity of Mary Rowlandson.

This program is sponsored by a collaborative effort among the Bolton Historical Society, the Stow Historical Society, the Lancaster Historical Society, Freedom's Way, and the Seven Bridge Writers' Collaborative.
